Who:

WHY

In order for you and others students to be successful in this class there are certain behaviors that are expected. I am asking that you commit to being a productive member of this class by agreeing to abide by the rules and policies outlined in this document.

WHAT

All students will be expected to be respectful, responsible and reasonable.

HOW

General Information

- Be on time.
- Be prepared. You are expected to come to class with a pencil, pen and paper.
- Be respectful. Listen when others are speaking. Use school appropriate language.
- You will not be allowed to interrupt the learning of anyone in class.

In class work/Homework – We will use every minute of the class period to learn. You will be expected to

- Complete all in class work which includes notes, problems and projects.
- Use your time in class to work, not socialize.
- Ask questions and persevere when you do not understand a topic.
- When homework is given you are expected to complete the assignment.

Peer work - There will be times when you must work together collaboratively , you will be expected to

- Be a contributor in your group.
- Treat everyone in the group politely.
- Be willing to share your work with the class.

RESOURCES

You can expect that I will treat you with respect, that I will offer opportunities for learning and that I will assist you in the learning process.

CONCLUSION

I understand that I must meet all Classroom Expectations listed above in order to be successful in Pre-Algebra. I agree to be respectful toward others and to accept responsibility for my actions and decisions.
